Soviet Troops.

1. No Soviet troop units or vehicles with Soviet numbers were observed in Warsaw until the middle of June 1951. * No Soviet units or offices were located in Kazimierz Dln. (R 52/Q 68), Jozefow (R 52/Q 55), Annopol (R 51/Q 63), Sandomierz (R 51/Q 51) and Radom (R 52/Q 19).
2. Soviet military personnel wearing black epaulets were seen at the military hospital in Lowicz (Q 53/P 27). **
3. Soviet troops were bivouacking for several weeks in the woods near Bydgoszcz (P 54/J 09), on the highway to Lantz (Q 55/Y 42). No Soviet troops were located in Bydgoszcz itself. A new telephone line was strung from Torun (Q 54/Y 39) to Bydgoszcz.

Military Installations in Warsaw.

4. The residence and headquarters of Marshal Rokossovsky was located on the west side of Al. Ujazdowskie, diagonally across the street from the residence of Polish President Bierut who, in turn, had his office in the Belweder. Rokossovsky's headquarters was bounded by ul. Klonowa on the north and by Al. Ujazdowska on the east. Several Soviet officers, including a general, a colonel, and a major with red-bordered black epaulets, and a colonel and a captain of the air force, were always seen at the headquarters. All used motor vehicles with Polish license numbers. The general rode in Skoda [REDACTED]
5. The Polish War Ministry was located on the south side of ul. Koszykowa, just east of the filter plant of the municipal water works. The block of the War Ministry included a military prison and billets for officers and NCOs assigned to the ministry.
6. The Court of the Polish Armed Forces was located on the north side of ul. Koszykowa, opposite the War Ministry. Residences of military personalities were located on the same side of the street.
